Complaint

In the year 2009 to current calendar year 2020 Amazon has been selling works under the following titles "The Treehouse Voyage", "Shoolie", "Suburbia", and "Guantanamo Island" authored by William "Will" Wills and cover design illustration by myself Allen Asher. The copy right for said illustrations belong to myself Allen Asher and I have filed a claim of copy right infringement with Amazon Policy 5.7 of Amazon states that after investigation of claim if copyright infringement is found to be true, works will be removed from future sale as sole remedy which is the case in my case. the works have been sold both on kindle and paperback the relief I am requesting from the courts is that the debt be paid as amazon policy 5.7 states amazon will satisfy on one title 1.8 million copies have sold as a Royalty percentage I would request an average for all four titles be a debt owed to me in an approximate sum of 5.4 million dollars I also would request that amazon-KDP pay all court costs and fees

I am requesting a total amount of 5.4 million dollars to be satisfied by Amazon for the sale of my works
